Strategies to Reduce Television Viewing in Your Home

Remember, the American Academy of Pediatrics says:

- Children age 2 and under should not watch any television.
- Older children should keep television time, including movies and video games, to less than 2 hours a day.

SET LIMITS

- Set TV limits for your children. Allow them 2 hours or less of quality television a day.
- At the beginning of the week, give them the TV Guide and together pick out the specific programs they want to watch that week – no more than 2 hours of television, including movies and video games, each day.
- Make certain days of the week “TV-free” days. Try no TV on school nights or no TV on Tuesdays.
- Rather than let your children just “watch TV,” ask them specifically what program they will be watching. When the TV show is over encourage them to do something else.
- Have your children complete their homework and chores before watching TV.
- Explain your rules in simple, concrete, and positive words. Instead of saying “You can’t watch TV,” try “Let’s turn off the TV so we can...”
- You don’t have to stop watching TV all at once. Try watching a little less each day.

JUST TURN THE TV OFF

- Turn TV off during meals. Meals are a great time for conversation.
- Instead of TV, listen to your favorite music or the radio.

WHAT IF YOUR KIDS SAY THEY ARE BORED?

- Don't worry if your children say "I'm bored!" For children, being bored often leads to creativity. It may take a little while, but they will find ways to entertain themselves!
- When your children say they are bored: Start an "Idea Box" full of different activities your family can do instead of watch TV. Have your children decorate the box, and whenever you think of a good idea write it on a slip of paper and place it in the box. Whenever your children say they are bored, send them running to the box for a new activity. Put both family activities and activities your children can do on their own.
- Make a box of "Fun Questions" and choose one for the entire family to answer at each mealtime. For example, "If I could be any animal, what animal would I be and why?"

PUT THE TV WHERE YOU HAVE CONTROL OVER IT

- DO NOT HAVE A TV IN YOUR CHILD'S BEDROOM. This is the most important thing you can do. Even if your child has a TV in the bedroom now, you can remove it! It is hard to monitor what TV or how much TV your child is watching. It keeps kids away from family activities and distracts them from homework, thinking, reading, and sleeping.
- Move the TV away from the family room. TV is less tempting when it is not in the main family room.

SHOW YOUR CHILDREN HOW FUN LIVING OUTSIDE THE BOX IS!

- Instead of using the TV as a babysitter, try encouraging your kids to do other activities on their own. Think about how careful you are when you choose someone to baby-sit your children—watching too much TV can be dangerous for your kids.
- Try to watch TV with your children and to talk with them about what you are watching. You are showing that you care about them and about what they watch.
- Set an example for your kids. Let them see YOU turn off the TV. Then invite them to join you in some activity!
- Don't let TV take away time from what is important: time for family to talk with each other, play together, read together, or to think and imagine about the world.

Family Activities

4 Simple Ideas!

3. Obstacle Course

This can be indoor or outdoor fun! You can use normal household items to make an obstacle course, such as chairs, pillows, stuffed animals and pots and pans. Set up an obstacle course around your house using any items you choose. Have rules for each item, such as "hop on one foot around the chair" or "walk backwards 6 steps with the pillow balanced on your head" or "play a song using a spoon and a pot." Have your children think of different challenges they could do at each obstacle.

4. Make and Play With Play Dough

- 2 cups flour
 - 1 cup salt
 - 2 cups water
 - 2 tablespoons oil
 - 4 teaspoons cream of tartar
- Can add drops of food coloring if colors are desired

Combine all ingredients in a large pot. Heat the ingredients on the stove top for 3 to 4 minutes at medium heat, stirring constantly. The ingredients will start to dry up, and form a ball. Remove from heat and knead the dough for a minute or so. To keep it from becoming dry, store the play dough in a zip-lock bag or container. If it starts to dry out, a little water can be added and kneaded into the play dough.

Family Activities

4 Simple Ideas!

1. Indoor Basketball

Who says you can't play basketball indoors? You'll need: a wastebasket, lots of paper (can be old paper or newspapers), and masking tape (optional).

Use the masking tape to make lines on the floor which mark certain distances from the wastebasket. You can also use other paper or clothes to create a line. Scrunch up the paper for balls. Now it is time to start shooting baskets! Begin at the closest line (the easiest) and try to make a basket by throwing the paper ball into the wastebasket. Work farther back to more difficult lines as you get better at making baskets.

2. Walking Scavenger Hunt

Want to make a fun game out of walking around the block with your kids? You don't need anything except your imagination!

Kids love scavenger hunts! As you leave the house for your family walk around the block, give your children a list of things to find. Each scavenger hunt can have different themes, such as "Color" where kids look for a green car, a blue flower, a red door, a black cat, and a white fence. Or try "Size" and look for a big cat and a small cat, a big car and a small car, and a big person and a little person. Have your children think of different themes and things to look for!

Fact Sheet

The American Academy of Pediatrics says:

- Children age 2 and under should not watch any television.
- Older children should keep television time, including movies and video games, to less than 2 hours a day.

Why reduce TV time?

Early childhood is an important time for children to learn and develop the skills they need to grow up healthy!

- Children age 2 and under should not watch any television. During a child's first 2 years critical brain development is occurring. TV can get in the way of exploring, learning, and spending time interacting with parents and others. This is an important time for young children to develop the skills they need to grow!

Children need a lot of physical activity every day to be healthy and happy!

- Children who are physically active are less likely to be overweight, are sick less often, do better in school, sleep better, and are less likely to feel sad, depressed, or stressed.
- Most children watch more than 20 to 30 hours of television every week, or about 3 to 4 hours a day! Time spent watching TV or using the computer is time they could be playing, riding a bike, or having fun with family or friends. Even quiet play like board games or reading is more active than watching TV.
- Being physically active outside of school is more important than ever. Only one in four children has a physical education class at school every day!
- The more time a child spends watching TV, the greater the chance he or she has of becoming overweight. Overweight children face many health problems, such as type 2 diabetes, high blood pressure, respiratory (breathing) problems, trouble sleeping, and depression.

Children often eat unhealthy food when watching TV!

- Children often snack on high calorie, high fat, and/or salty foods when watching TV.
- Children eat less healthy meals when eating in front of the TV.

Television advertising impacts children's food choices!

- The average child sees more than 40,000 commercials each year! Most ads targeted at children are for candy, cereal, and fast food.
- Food ads children see on TV can pressure them to choose unhealthy foods to eat. Even watching 10 to 30 seconds of food commercials can affect what a child wants to eat!
- Children who go grocery shopping with their families often ask for unhealthy foods they see in TV ads. The more TV they watch, the more likely they are to ask for these foods.
- Popular TV and movie characters encourage kids to buy and eat unhealthy foods.
- Children as young as 14 months of age will imitate what they see on TV.
